Tracking Your Order

Every shipment includes a tracking number from our carrier partners (UPS, FedEx, or USPS). Track your package from the link in your shipping confirmation email or from Order History in your account.

Shipment status moves through these stages:

- Processing - order received, being packed
- Shipped - handed to the carrier, tracking is active
- In Transit - moving through the carrier network
- Out for Delivery - on the truck for delivery today
- Delivered - arrived at your address
- Delayed - the carrier has reported an exception (weather, address issue, etc.)

Delayed or Lost Packages

If tracking shows no movement for more than 5 business days, or a package is marked delivered but you haven't received it, contact support@trailheadsupply.example. We will open a carrier investigation and, where appropriate, reship or refund your order.

Address Changes

We can only change a shipping address while an order is still in Processing. Once a package has shipped, the address is locked by the carrier.
