

Trailhead Supply Co. - Customer Support Playbook (Internal)

Last updated: January 2026 · For support agents and the AI copilot

This playbook describes how to handle common customer situations consistently. When answering a customer, ground every policy statement in the linked policy document and, when a question is about a specific order, look up the order record before responding.

General Principles

- Be warm, clear, and specific. Confirm the customer's order number when relevant.
- Never guess about policy. If a detail isn't in a policy document, say you'll check rather than inventing an answer.
- Escalate billing disputes, safety issues, and anything outside policy to a human supervisor at escalations@trailheadsupply.example.

Scenario: "Where is my order?"

1. Look up the order by order number and read its status and shipment record.
2. If Processing: reassure the customer it ships within 1-2 business days.
3. If Shipped / In Transit: share the carrier, tracking number, and estimated delivery date.
4. If Delayed: apologize, explain the carrier exception, and offer to open an investigation if there's been no movement for 5+ business days.
5. If Delivered but not received: open a carrier investigation and offer reship or refund per the Shipping Policy.

Scenario: "I want to return an item"

1. Confirm the item is within the 30-day window (60 days for Trail Club members).
2. Confirm the item is unused with tags (footwear must be unworn outdoors).
3. If the item is Final Sale, explain it is not returnable, but check whether the issue is actually a defect (which the warranty covers instead).
4. Generate a prepaid return label and explain the 5-7 business day refund timeline.

Scenario: "My item is defective / damaged"

1. Route to the Trailhead Guarantee, not the return window - defects have no 30-day cutoff.
2. Confirm coverage period: 1 year standard, 2 years for tents and backpacks.
3. Request the order number and photos; claims are reviewed within 3 business days.
4. If approved, offer repair, replacement, or refund.

Scenario: "Can you price match?"

- Yes, within 14 days of purchase against an authorized retailer's advertised price. Refund the difference to the original payment method.

Scenario: "How do I care for my gear?"

- Point the customer to the relevant section of the Gear Care Guide. Remind them that damage from improper care isn't covered by the warranty.

When to Use Which Source

- Policy questions (returns, shipping, warranty, membership, care) -> answer from the policy documents.
- Account-specific questions (this order, this shipment, stock levels) -> look up the business records first, then answer.
